

df (report free disk space)

The command df (“disk free”) shows you how much space you have left on your disk drives. It is most commonly used like this:

```
df -h
```

The option -h stands for “human-readable”. If you leave it out, df will output block counts instead of megabytes and gigabytes.